

Poverty snapshots in France

Paris – Champs-Elysées...

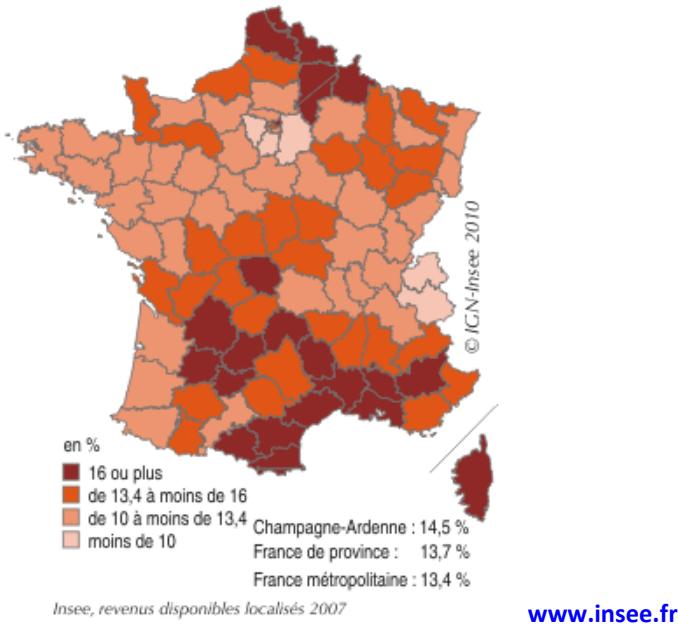

Paris- Champs-Elysées!!

Paris : The Homeless living on the bank of the river

Seine in the centre of Paris. The tents are given by activists of the association Don Quichotte. They often organize protest demonstrations in order to force the government into building affordable social housing. Housing in Paris has become too expensive.

Taux de pauvreté de la population

In 2007, our Champagne Ardenne region had a slightly lower rate (14.5%) than the national average. But is it good news?.

In Châlons-en-Champagne

A damaged building behind the main road of the town centre in Châlons-en-Champagne.

The back street of a shop.

An old house that homeless people use as a shelter.

A homeless living under a bridge

Collecting of food at a local supermarket for the Restos du Coeur.

