

Thursday : Copenhagen

In the morning, we went to the aquarium of Copenhagen « The blue planet ».

After that, we saw the « little mermaid »

We did some shopping

And, we came back to Simrishamn.

« The Blue Planet »

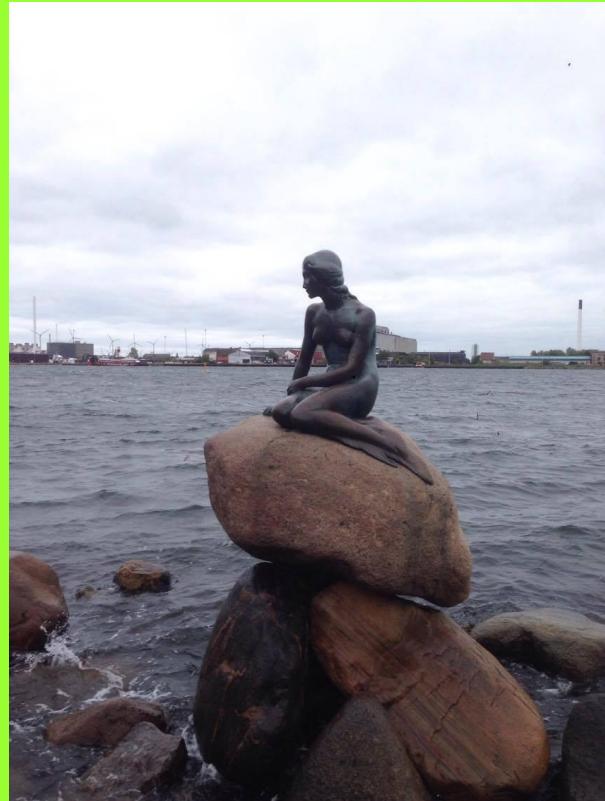

« Den Blå Planet » or « The blue planet » is the largest aquarium in northern Europe. There are a lot of different fish. We can see many large and small aquariums. Outside, we can play with a water course. Inside, it's very fun and enjoyable.

They adapt water for animals and plants to live like in their natural habitat. There are huge shoals of fish here.

The little mermaid

Den lille havfrue or the little mermaid is a sculpture displayed on a rock in the waterside of the Langelinie promenade, and based on Andersen's story.
Andersen's story.

My hosts and the other students

I spent a wonderful week in Sweden. My hosts were amazing, they are very nice. They have a big comfortable house, and a cute little dog. They live at Simrishamn in the Skane region.

We made some great activites. I think the Erasmus project is really great because we met some new people of different countries. That week we talked to Italian, German and Swedish people and they were really cool. I miss them now. I am impatient to see the swedish group again.
